Introduction

As defined in title 10 United States Code § 2222, a “covered” defense business system (DBS) is a DBS anticipated to cost over $1M over the period of the Future Years Defense Program, regardless of appropriation type. This supplement provides the following system data tables with certification results for these systems:

- Fiscal Year (FY) 2013 Certification Results – identifies the FY 2013 system certification requests and approvals. This is an update to the supplement of primary cycle certification requests provided in the FY 2013 Congressional Report on Defense Business Operations. It includes certification results for out-of-cycle requests and corrections made to data errors discovered while reconciling final certification results. For FY 2013, the Defense Business Council (DBC) reviewed primary and out-of-cycle certification requests totaling $7,921M for 1,272 DBS and approved $7,611M for 1,259 DBS.
- FY 2014 Certification Results – identifies the FY 2014 system certification requests and approvals. In 2013, the DBC reviewed FY 2014 certification requests totaling $6,996M for 1,180 DBS. Of those requests, the DBC approved $6,379M for 1,173 DBS.
- FY 2014 Covered DBS with No Certification Request – identifies the 39 covered DBS which did not request certification.
- Archived Systems – identifies the 66 systems which have been retired since the FY 2012 National Defense Authorization Act was enacted.

Additionally, further information pertaining to the certification is captured in the FY 2014 Enterprise Transition Plan (ETP). The ETP identified the desired set of business and information technology capabilities required to transition from the current state to the target defense business systems computing environment within a specified timeframe, including certifications of covered DBS. The ETP is assembled as an output of the DBC’s annual review of Organizational Execution Plans.

The FY 2014 ETP is available to Common Access Card holders at the following link: <http://dcmo.defense.gov/publications/enterprise-transition-plan.html>
